What is Cambridge English: Key for Schools?

Cambridge English: Key for Schools is a test at Level A2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). The test has exactly the same types of tasks and questions as Cambridge English: Key. Both tests use English in everyday situations. The only difference is that Cambridge English: Key for Schools is for candidates who are at school. You can do Cambridge English: Key for Schools as a paper-based or computer-based test.

Before the exam – preparation

It is good to do practice tests and try to improve your grammar and vocabulary, but remember that the most important thing is that you can communicate clearly. So, for example, in the Speaking test, the examiner will be interested in how you ask your partner questions and how you give information to your partner as well as the grammar and vocabulary you use.

To help you get ready for Cambridge English: Key for Schools, our website has a lot of free exam material available, including:

- tips and FAQs for each exam paper
- sample papers and a computer-based practice test
- links to further books for study.

There are also coursebooks and practice tests that you can buy to help you prepare. To find out more about these, click here.

ANSWERS

Preparing for Cambridge English: Key for Schools

1. What do I have to do in each part of the test?

You can download a sample paper here, and our website has more information about each part of the test. If you are taking a computer-based exam, you can try a computer-based practice test here.

2. How important are practice tests?

It is very useful to do some practice tests, so you will know exactly what is in the test. It is also important to practise doing a timed test. When you have finished, look at the answers and think carefully about the ones that are wrong and why they are wrong. After you have done the writing part, look at the sample answers. You could also do a practice speaking test with a friend.

Remember, doing practice tests is only part of the work you need to do to get ready for the exam. Think about what you are good at and not so good at when you use English. Try to improve your English, not just for the exam but for life after the exam!

3. What kinds of things should I read as well as my coursebook?

The Reading paper contains different kinds of texts so try to look at texts that you can find around you or on the internet, not just in your coursebook. Some things that would be useful to look at include:

- signs, notices and advertisements
- short newspaper and magazine articles
- notes, text messages and emails from friends
- posters and leaflets (you may be able to find leaflets in English in the library or in a tourist information office)
- graded readers (books that are written for people learning English).

The Reading paper tests reading in different ways, so prepare yourself for this. For example:

- try to read a text quickly to get the main idea (this is called 'skimming')
- read a text to find out certain information, for example, reading a TV guide to find whether there is a certain type of programme on today (this is called 'scanning')
- try to read some texts carefully so that you understand everything.

You will need to read in all of these different ways in the Reading test so if you can practise like this it will really help you. Another useful thing you can do when you are reading is try to guess the meaning of words you don't know.

4. How can I improve my writing?

Some useful ways of preparing for the Writing parts are:

- Write short messages or emails to friends and encourage them to write back to you.
- Try to learn how to do things in your writing like giving information, inviting, suggesting, thanking and apologising.
- Practise writing a message (Part 9 of the test) that is 25–35 words long so that you have a good idea of what that many words looks like.
- When practising answering exam questions, try not to use the words that are in the question; use your own words instead.
- Look at model answers in coursebooks to see what answers are like at A2 level. This will help you to see what a 'good' answer looks like.
- Practise writing with the same time limit as in the exam.
- Practise copying information from posters or leaflets then check your spelling. (This will help with Part 8 of the Reading and Writing paper.)

In Part 9, there are always three parts of the message that you must include. The examiner will check that you have included all of these three parts. They will also look at how clear and easy to understand your writing is. Your writing should not have too many spelling, grammar or vocabulary mistakes.

5. How can I learn to use more vocabulary and grammar?

Try to do the following:

- Keep a vocabulary book and write down new words that you see in past papers and your coursebook. Try to write words that go together so that you can learn these, e.g. 'do your homework' and 'make a noise'.
- Practise your spelling. If you have problems spelling a word, try to practise writing it again and again until you can remember the correct spelling.
- Play the Cambridge English games Funland and Monkey Puzzles – a fun way to learn and practise vocabulary.
- Make sure you know vocabulary about many different topics. Try to use English in different ways and with different people, and learn the words you need. Ask your teacher about the topics that can be in the exam.
- Learn the different forms of irregular verbs (like 'I go', 'I went', 'I have gone').

6. How can I improve my listening?

Try listening to real people speaking as much as you can. You can find many different things to listen to online and you may find it easier to watch videos so that you can see the person speaking at the same time as listening to them. You could listen to:

- videos on the Cambridge English TV YouTube channel
- the recordings in the balloon burst game in Funland
- sample chapters from Cambridge University Press graded readers
- a drama called flatmates on the BBC World Service
<http://www.bbc.co.uk/worldservice/learningenglish/flatmates/>
(you can find worksheets to go with this too).

7. What is the best way to improve my speaking?

The best thing to do is to speak English as much as you can with your friends and your teacher. Try to talk about different things. Practise asking questions – think about the information you want to find out and ask a question to get that information. You could look at a poster with a friend and ask each other questions about it. This will help you with Part 2 of the Speaking test.

You can see an example of a Speaking test here. You can read an examiner's comments on this Speaking test here.

ANSWERS

Practical things to do before the exam

1. How can I find practice tests?

The Cambridge English book of practice tests is available online or from bookshops. There is also a free sample online test.

2. When will my exam be?

Ask your teacher. If your school does not register students for the exam, your teacher or parents can click here to find an exam centre near you.

3. What is the Notice to Candidates?

It is a list of things you can and can't do in the exam room. Your exam centre will give you a Notice to Candidates, but you can also see this online here.

4. What do I need to take with me on exam day?

It is important to take your passport for identification. A bottle of water is also a good idea. You can take pens and pencils, but your centre will give you these if you don't have any.

5. How do I register for results online?

When you register for the exam, you will receive a Confirmation of Entry. This will show the web address for our Results Online site, as well as your ID number and secret number, which you will need to use to register to receive your results online.

Exam day

Here are some things that will happen on exam day:

- You may be given a sheet of candidate data to fill in. Don't worry - this is just information for us at Cambridge English Language Assessment.
- When you do the exam, it is very important that you know how to fill in the answer sheets. Doing practice tests and the online sample test will help you to do this on the exam day.
- For the Speaking exam, you will go in with a partner and there will be two examiners: the interlocutor, who will ask you questions and give you a global mark, and the assessor, who will just listen and give you marks by using assessment criteria. You can find out more about this here.
- If you have registered for the exam yourself (not through a school), you can contact your local centre with any questions. You can find the centre nearest to you at: www.cambridgeenglish.org/centres
- Before you take your exam, visit the What to expect on exam day web page and read the Summary Regulations for Candidates.

EXAM DAY TIPS

- ✓ Make sure you have a good night's sleep before exam day.
- ✓ With Reading, look carefully at the instructions for each text and the titles of the longer texts. The instructions will tell you what to do and the titles will tell you where the text comes from and what it is about. Read texts carefully and make sure that you answer the questions. (Don't just choose an answer because you see one word.)
- ✓ For the Writing part of the paper (Parts 6–9), check your spelling carefully and make sure you write down words correctly in Part 8; in Part 9, check that you have included all three points from the question. Give yourself time to write, check and edit your work. If you do change anything, make sure your writing is easy to read.
- ✓ In the Listening paper you will hear each recording twice. Use any pauses to read the instructions and questions. Try to answer questions the first time you hear the recording and then use the second time to check your work and fill in any answers that you didn't hear the first time. At the end of the test, copy your answers carefully onto the answer sheet and check your work.
- ✓ On all the papers make sure that you have chosen an answer for each multiple-choice question.
- ✓ With Speaking, listen to what the interlocutor says and what your partner says. Try to answer the examiner's questions with more than one word. In Part 2, try to make correct questions using the question words, but don't worry if you think you have made a mistake. The important thing is that you communicate well with your partner and the examiner.

After the exam – your results and the things you can do next

What should you do after the exam?

Can you answer these questions?

1. How long do I have to wait for my results and my certificate?
2. What information will be on my Statement of Results?
3. What is the 'Online Results Verification Service'?
4. What does my exam result say about my level?
5. What can I do with my Cambridge English: Key for Schools qualification?
6. How can I continue my language learning after passing Cambridge English: Key for Schools?

ANSWERS

Results and next steps

1. How long do I have to wait for my results and my certificate?

Statements of Results are usually available four to six weeks after the test for paper-based exams, and two weeks after the test for computer-based exams, and you can see your results online. To do this, put in your candidate ID number and secret number. These can be found on the Confirmation of Entry sheet that your centre gave you. You will receive your certificate about six weeks after the results are available (or after three weeks for computer-based tests).

2. What information will be on my Statement of Results?

You will see your grade, the marks that are needed to get each grade, and then your own 'candidate profile'. This will show how you did on each paper: Exceptional, Good, Borderline or Weak. You do not pass or fail individual papers - your grade will show how you did across all four papers.

Please see 'Understanding your Statement of Results'.

3. What is the 'Online Results Verification Service'?

This service lets universities, colleges or employers check your exam result. You will need to give them your candidate ID number and secret number.

4. What does my exam result say about my level?

If you pass Cambridge English: Key for Schools, you will receive the Key English Test certificate at Level A2. If you do extremely well in the exam, you will receive a Key English Test certificate that says that you showed ability at Level B1. If you don't quite pass the exam, but you show ability at A1 level in the exam, you will receive a Level A1 certificate.

5. What can I do with my Cambridge English: Key for Schools qualification?

If you successfully take Cambridge English: Key for Schools, you will receive the same certificate as adults who take Cambridge English: Key. It shows that you have mastered the basics in English.

This certificate is accepted by thousands of leading businesses and educational institutions worldwide. Find out more about who accepts Cambridge English exams here.

6. How can I continue my language learning after passing Cambridge English: Key for Schools?

After you have passed Cambridge English: Key for Schools, you can go on to take Cambridge English: Preliminary for Schools (B1 level) and following that you could also take Cambridge English: First for Schools, which is at B2 level, and Cambridge English: Advanced at C1 level.
